

Wada and wife Masuko at Nisei Week parade.

Olympic circles.

between peoples and nations," and he has been

He became involved in Olympics activities in Wada, who was born to immigrant parents in Wada's mother died when he was young and 14 and went to work for a grocer.

base of operations to Southern California federal government decided that they must status. With characteristic style and Japanese-Americans to help farm unused travel to California detention camps to urge in business and community endeavors public achievements. But that tells only half the Wada, tells the other half.

1